Join the Cranfest Team!

Since it began in 1973, Warrens Cranberry Festival has expanded from 75 booths and 3,500 visitors to over 3 miles of booths and more than 100,000 visitors each year.

As Warrens Cranberry Festival continues to grow, its need for volunteers increases as well. Cranfest membership is always looking for new members, and invites you to be a part of the festival this year!

There are several ways you can volunteer for fest, from assisting with booths to stuffing envelopes. The hours you spend with Cranfest are up to you.

By volunteering, you will get to know your community and help the festival with its primary goal: to promote and raise funds for the village of Warrens.

Warrens Cranberry Festival has given over 2 million dollars in donations during its 37 years. Over 3 million dollars in revenue annually are brought into Monroe and its surrounding counties by fest.

Much of Cranfest's donations have gone toward improving village property in Warrens, including the municipal building, fire station, ball park, local schools, Lions Club building and Warren Mills Cemetery.

Cranfest volunteers really do make a difference!

What can you do to help?

There's something for everyone at Warrens Cranberry Festival. Here are just a few of the things you can do to help out:

- Cleanup during and after fest
- Secure the grounds
- Mark booth spaces
- Stuff envelopes
- Sell souvenir buttons
- Guide bus tours
- Assist special guests
- Help setup and take down before and after fest
- Serve at vendor and information booths
- Work at sales booth
- Sell items at bus tours
- Serve on the balloon committee

Help Continue to Build Our Community!

Warrens Cranberry Festival began 38 years ago when a group of volunteers intent on improving the quality of life in Warrens had a vision of a community festival. They decided to celebrate a cranberry theme because Warrens is populated by numerous cranberry marshes.

The volunteers stayed together and continued to grow as their vision progressed. We are now looking forward to our 38th festival, and now Warrens' "tiny" festival is known worldwide. Cranfest is really a community accomplishment of which to be proud.

The Board of Directors of Warrens Cranberry Festival, its current members and office staff encourage you to work together as preparations continue for each annual festival. Join us as we continue to build our community through cooperation and the success of Warrens Cranberry Festival.
