Warrens Cranberry Festival Appears in September Issue of Oprah Magazine Magazine Calls Cranfest "Worth the Trip"

WARRENS, Wisconsin, August 13, 2009—Warrens Cranberry Festival has been named one of the “6 Food Festivals That Are Worth the Trip” in the September 2009 issue of O, The Oprah Magazine.

The article mentions all things “cran-tastic,” including cranberry cuisine, the arts & crafts booths and the marsh tours available during the festival.

The article is available on newsstands, as well as online at www.oprah.com. This year’s 37th Annual Warrens Cranberry Festival will be held Sept. 25-27. For more information, contact the festival office at 608-378-4200.

The purpose of the Warrens Cranberry Festival shall be to promote the common good and general welfare of the community of Warrens, including holding an annual community festival and raising funds to be used exclusively for civic betterments and social improvements in the Warrens community.
