

safari

Students

Finger harp, celebration on our last day in Okora

Everybody dances

Watching the dancers in celebration

The adult men participating in focus group conversation.

Preparing the space for the focus group conversations.

All of the classrooms under the trees have already been replaced with buildings.